Hallowe'en Window Drawing Contest Sponsored By Merchants For Kids

Youngsters with an itch to swish a cake of soap across a plate glass window next Monday eve can put that soap and window yen to work for themselves. Instead of an ignominious scrawl or two, they may do an artistic masterpiece or a bit of modern cubism on the window and draw the praise of art critics and a handsome prize to boot.

Campbell merchants are sponsoring this special Hallowe'en program for the community's youngsters in an effort to reduce vandalism and malicious mischief on the annual evening of fun.

Participating stores will block out a two foot by two foot square on their plate glass windows where youngsters may draw with soap to their heart's content. The youthful artists are asked to sign name and address to their works for there will be a judging on Tuesday by school art teachers, and winners are to receive prizes Wednesday at the Campbell Theater.

Miss Marian Winston, Campbell High School art instructor; Mrs. Thelma Wathen, Campbell Grammar School are instructors; and Joseph Anello, Campbell Press, advertising manager, will do the judging Tuesday afternoon.

Rules for the contest are as follows: Use only soap or water color paint; use of wax or candles will automatically eliminate contestant; no obscene or lewdly suggestive pictures will be considered; pictures are to be drawn Monday, October 31, during the day or evening; judging will be on Tuesday afternoon; write your name and address above the picture; guard that picture during the evening and be sure it's still yours the next day. In order to be certain, that your name is legible, tell the store proprietor or slip a note under the door with your name and address and location of the picture.

Participating merchants have contributed prizes which will be lumped into two prizes, to be awarded to the first and second place winners Wednesday night at the theater.

Participating merchants to date are: Field's Fine Foods, Golden Rule Dry Goods, Clark's Drug Store, Red and White Grocery, Shoe Hospital, Penhall's Barber Shop, Burnett's Appliances, Campbell Hardware, Horace's Market, Nelson Electric, Cozy Cafe, Benson's Campbell Cleaners, Virginia City Fountain and Grill, Modern Shoe Service, Portola Cleaners in Virginia City, Marvel's Juvenile Shop, Accardi's, The Campbell Press.

Other merchants have indicated they plan to join, so look for the identifying squares on other shop windows. All youngsters in the community are eligible.

Superintendent of County Schools Sets Open House

Those who have watched with interest the chain of events which eventually led to the final completion of new quarters for the County Superintendent of Schools, at 2320 Moorpark Avenue, San Jose, will have an opportunity to inspect the new offices, as special guests of Dr. O. S. Hubbard at an open house planned for the new building on the evening of November 4. The open house is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. and last until 9 p.m. All citizens of the county are cordially invited to attend.

Supervisors and other personnel of the county superintendent's office will be present at the open house to greet guests and explain the services of the county office. The new office is located in the Campbell School district.

Built at a cost of $56,000, the new building provides nearly 10,000 square feet of floor space. The low cost of construction (approximately $6 per square foot) is due to the fact that the building is not wholly new. While it has all the attractiveness and convenience of a new building, actually the main part of the structure served as living quarters for bachelor officers during the war at the Hollister Airport.

In addition to providing office space for the expanded county superintendent's staff, the new quarters also contain a large audio-visual department, professional library, curriculum laboratory, a room in which films may be previewed and quarters for the County Board of Education.

The firm of Higgins & Root designed the building. Holger Pederson served as general contractor.

Mental Health Service To Hold Workers Seminar

As part of its community services program, the Mental Health Service of Santa Clara County will conduct a seminar for social workers on Thursday, November 3 at 11:00 a.m. at the headquarters of the Mental Health Service in the Porter Building in San Jose. The seminar on "The Importance of the Single Interview" is one of a monthly series started in May to assist social workers with the mental health aspects of their work with people. The seminars are open to all practicing social workers in the county.

Similar mental health programs can be arranged upon request for teachers, group workers, doctors, nurses and personnel workers. The community service projects, organized as preventive measures to supplement the Service's better-known treatment of individuals, are under the guidance of Dr. Rush Fawcett, Medical Director of the Mental Health Service. The projects also include provision of consultation, program planning, and speakers for PTA's, service clubs, and other groups interested in mental hygiene education. Inquiry about speakers and programs should be directed to Mrs. Ruth Maher, Chief Psychiatric Social Worker, in the Porter Building, San Jose.

Blood Center Mobile Unit Here Dec. 14; Advance Donor Signup Gets Underway

Mobile Unit of the Santa Clara Valley Regional Blood Center will be in Campbell Wednesday, December 14 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Methodist Church parish house, Campbell Blood Program chairman J. F. Levenberg announced today.

"This is your opportunity to give blood to help some person," he said, "who knows, it may be a relative, neighbor or even a friend that will need it in an emergency. Or you may want to replace some blood for a person who has already received it from the blood bank."

"The recent fine job that the Hunt Cannery employees did in giving so generously for a fellow worker who was in the hospital was magnificent. Any worker can again give as the three months period is now up."

Anyone who anticipates donating during the mobile unit visit may contact Mrs. Ellen Lanphear at Campbell 3655, or Levenberg at Campbell 2555.

"Your help is needed," Levenberg emphasized in expressing hope that everyone able to do so will add his donation of a pint of blood to the Campbell community credit at the blood center. "Remember December 14."

Donors must be between the ages of 21 and 60 years. Anyone between 18 and 21 years, unless married, must have parent's consent. Minimum weight for donors is 110 pounds. They must not eat for four hours prior to donating blood, except black coffee or fruit juices. Donors should not give more than four times yearly. All blood types will be taken. There is no racial discrimination. Donating blood is painless and devoid of risk. The physical conditions and medical histories of all prospective donors are carefully checked. If there is any question of physical fitness, the gift of blood is rejected. Highest medical standards safeguard both the donor and the recipient.

Yes Vote On Proposition One Recommended

Five organizations in the Campbell area have announced their public support of Proposition One on the November 8 ballot, the $250,000,000 bond issue measure designed to aid needy school districts which have reached the limit of bonded indebtedness.

Organizations urging a "YES" vote on the proposition are Moorpark School Parent-Teacher Association, Moorpark Men's Club, Campbell Kiwanis Club, San Tomas Men's Club and California Teachers Association (Campbell branch).

A recent check of school housing in Santa Clara County has revealed some conditions which should be brought to the attention of the public at this time. O. S. Hubbard, County Superintendent of schools, declared today.

First, 2410 children in the elementary grades (kindergarten-eighth) are on double session in Santa Clara County. This means that the young pupils are in school for only part of a day and are usually required (depending on the schedule) to be at school at an unusually early or late hour, he disclosed.

The school districts which at present are forced to hold double sessions are as follows: Alum Rock, 1740; Campbell, 350 (kindergarten only); Gilroy, 110; Morgan Hill, 210. Total, 2400.

Second, an additional 520 pupils are attending school in rooms or buildings not designed for school purposes or in quarters which are inadequate in size such as divided classrooms, small extra rooms, etc.

These pupils are distributed as follows: Alum Rock, 240; San Ysidro, 30; Sunnyvale, 150; Union, 70; Whisman, 490. Total, 980.

The 3390 pupils indicated above represent 16 percent of the total number of pupils enrolled in the elementary schools of the county, exclusive of Palo Alto and San Jose. Several thousand more are housed in substandard classrooms or packed into rooms which were originally designed for only half or two-thirds of their present enrollments.

The only answer to this problem is additional housing, Hubbard asserted. In some cases listed above, however, the districts have already bonded themselves to the limit. Their only hope for aid is the passage of Proposition No. 1 which will provide state loans to these impoverished districts which can not help themselves.

Pension Group

Chairman J. S. Chandler will preside at the regular meeting of the Citizens Committee for Old Age Pensions on Thursday, November 3, at 1:30 p.m. in the Campbell Library building.

San Tomas Trick or Treaters To Collect Clothing, Food and Toys For Hollanders

Hallowe'en this year is going to be not only fun for children in San Tomas, it is going to bridge a distance of time and space in order to include a group of children in Holland on Christmas Day. In accordance with its policy established last year, the San Tomas School and community is asking its children on Hallowe'en to collect many necessities for the children overseas, instead of the customary cake and candy handed out for "Trick or Treat." Four large bundles were sent overseas last year for the Holland families that San Tomas took under its generous wing, and this year it is hoped that there will be a great deal more to send in the way of clothes and food and other necessities.

The "trick" of course is to get as great a collection as possible to send to the less fortunate children overseas; and the "treat" is taking the form of a really wonderful party on Hallowe'en night at the San Tomas school. Many forms of entertainment are planned, including, of course, all kinds of refreshments, games, movies and costumes. The program is scheduled as follows:

Folk dancing, 7 p.m.; judging of costumes, around the fire, 7:30; movie at 8, eats for everybody, hot dogs, pop, candy, coffee, etc., 8:30.

Committee for the program includes Mrs. Ray Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Swan, Mr. James Morrison, Mr. Steve Ridgeley, Mrs.

Service Fund Drive Climbs to $5,800; Committee Hopes To Reach $6,000

Saia, a high school student, gave a pep talk on behalf of the Footlighters play being presented this weekend at the school under auspices of the high school Parent-Teacher Association.

At next Tuesday's meeting, President Lowell Benson will report on the Long Beach Kiwanis convention held this week. Local club members and their wives who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Lanphear, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dahl, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Henley, Guy E. Farley and Fred Jones.

Civic Improvement Discussed At Grange Session

Willard Lecroy, Campbell High School music teacher, was guest vocalist at the Orchard City Grange meeting Tuesday night in Campbell IOOF Hall. He was accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Rutherford, and sang "Duna," "Beside the Shalimar" and "Without A Song."

Wesley Youngclaus had charge of the lecture program.

Mervyn Keesling, who gave the market report, said all the apricots and dried prunes have been sold. There were less than 160,000 tons of prunes this year. The government will pay a subsidy of a cent and a half per pound if they are used for cattle feed, and 3 1/2 cents a pound if used for prune juice. A subsidy will be paid also for export.

During the civic improvement report, members learned that there is a proposal under discussion at Sacramento to make the Bayshore Highway a freeway for the total distance; the "death curve" on Saratoga-Los Gatos road north of Saratoga is being straightened; next spring construction will begin on the by-pass highway around Lexington dam. Cost is expected to be about $2,500,000.

Current improvement project on the local scene is repaving of Campbell Avenue from the railroad to San Tomas creek. A similar program is slated for Railroad Avenue. The old familiar puddle holes in front of the grammar school are to be filled.

Grangers passed a resolution to give the local club's share of $5 to the Pomona deputy for expenses at state and national grange sessions. They also voted $10 to defray expense of the Pomona drill team.

Refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

A Grange Booster night was voted for October, 1950. Booster night will be held at the Morgan Hill Grange hall Friday, October 28. Capt. John DeMers of the California Highway Patrol will speak on traffic safety.

The Grange Home Economics Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Martin S. Walsh on November 11.

Roberta Garrison, Raymond C. McVea Exchange Vows In Lutheran Service

Currently honeymooning in Carmel are newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. McVea (Roberta Irene Garrison) who were married Sunday at the Grace Lutheran Church, San Jose. The Rev. C. F. Crouser read the service before the altar setting of white chrysanthemums and ferns. White and pale pink gladioli completed the church decor.

A white satin gown styled with off-the-shoulder neckline was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. A. L. Garrison. Seed pearls trimmed the bodice of her gown, and the skirt was accented by a bustle and hoop skirt ending in a five-foot train. A princess crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, asters and Stephanotis.

Attendants

Mrs. Wanda Wallace, matron of honor for her sister, was attired in pink marquisette with hoop skirt styling and sweetheart neckline. The Misses Joan and Oletha Garrison, sister and cousin of the bride, wore bridesmaids' gowns and blue and green marquisette gowns styled with hoop skirt, bustle and off-the-shoulder neckline. Mrs. Wallace carried a bouquet of blue asters and carnations shading from dark to light blue, and Joan Garrison's bouquet carried out the same arrangement in pink. Oletha Garrison's flowers were brilliant yellow carnations and asters shading to a light cream.

Irvin McVea was his brother's best man, and ushers were Norman McVea and Fred Norris. Vocalist Miss Lila Reagan sang "Because" and "Always."

Mrs. Irene Serafino selected a tailored suit in wine tones for her daughter's wedding. Her costume was complemented by black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Jennie Porter of San Jose, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black and green striped copenette dress with black accessories and white carnation corsage.

Reception

Some 200 friends and relatives of the young couple attended the reception held at the church hall where the four-tiered wedding cake was cut by the new Mrs. McVea.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a green checked suit with black accessories and white corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. McVea will be at home next week at 20-A Latimer Avenue, Campbell.

Mrs. McVea, daughter of Mrs. Irene Serafino, 1066 Walnut Drive, Campbell, and the late Mr. William O. Garrison, is a graduate of Campbell High School and is now employed by Rosicrucian Order in San Jose. She is the sister of Mrs. Wanda Wallace, who was married two months ago; Miss Joan Garrison, Miss Janice Garrison and Dwight Garrison. Mr. McVea, now with the Campbell Post Office, is a graduate of Campbell High School. His mother is Mrs. Jennie Porter of San Jose. Brothers and sisters of the bridegroom are Norman McVea, Mrs. Hazel McKenzie of San Leandro, Mrs. Mildred Yancik of San Lorenzo, and Irvin McVea of Campbell.

Spanish Dancing Team Featured On Concert Series

Rosario and Antonio, world famous Spanish dancers, will make their appearance in Los Gatos at the Los Gatos Union High School on November 1 at 8:30 p.m. under the auspices of the Los Gatos Community Concert Series Association. Back from six months of record-breaking performances in Europe the famous young dancers are currently on their fourth American trans-continental concert tour which will bring them to practically every state in the Union.

Featuring the fiery flamenco dances they learned in their native Seville, classic works set to the music of de Falla, Granados and Albeniz and folk dances in traditional costumes, Rosario and Antonio will present one of the most spectacular programs of Castilian dances since the days of the lamented La Argentinita, whose impresario, F. C. Coppicus, now directs their present tour.

The 1948-1950 season will mark their 20th dancing anniversary, and this at the ripe old age of 25 and 26. These cousins have told the world Spanish folklore through dancing ever since they joined the festival crowd in Seville when they were five and six years old. Their recent sensational tour of the European capitals also marked the first time in 12 years that they found enough time from American concert, movie, Broadway and supperclub commitments to return to their home continent.

Their arrival here will be slightly on the spectacular side, since they are travelling in three limousines with their own company of instrumentalists and their own lighting equipment and complete wardrobe, numbering some 55 different costumes.

This is the first of a series of four programs to be presented by the Los Gatos Concert Series Association this year. The three remaining programs will be: November 11, Arthur Kent, baritone; February 3, Susan Reed, ballad singer, and March 30, Bartlett and Robertson, piano duo.

CORN WILL LINGER in your memory if you serve it this way. Cut ears into chunks about 1/2 inch long. Cook and serve with melted butter to which has been added a few chopped, stuffed olives. Dust the corn chunk with salt and pepper after dunking it in this butter sauce.

Another item which you'll want to serve often after you've tried it is scrambled eggs into which you have folded 1 3-ounce package of cream cheese, softened with some cream. Add this to the eggs as you start cooking.

Ever tried a baked blueberry shortcake? Make a rich biscuit dough and place in a casserole. Top it with a thick layer of sweetened fresh blueberries to which has been added just a dash of lemon juice and nutmeg. Bake for 1/2 hour in a fairly hot oven, until the berries are covered with a thick syrup. Serve with rich cream.

A real refresher for breakfast: combine melon balls (watermelon, cantaloupe and honeydew) and pour icy orange juice over them. Serve cold.

Make desserts easily for summer-time: Top a slice of angel food or sponge cake with a peach filled

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

(Serves 6)

12 slices cold roast lamb

Green salads will take on more zest when you add some chopped bacon to the dressing before tossing in the salad greens. Or, for variety, you might try some anchovy fillets or crumbled blue cheese.

The Campbell Register

Friends of former Campbell residents MR. AND MRS. PAUL S. BECKER, will be relieved to learn that the Beckers are in good health despite the recent terrible floods in Guatemala where they now live. In a letter received from them Saturday by MISS JANE PARR, the Beckers wrote that the floods, "a national tragedy," washed out most of the roads and railroad lines. There is no surface communication between coastal points in Guatemala and the central area of the country where Guatemala City is located. Many of the native huts were washed away as a result of the steady 72-hour downpour. Crops were ruined and scores of lowland natives lost their lives in the flood. Mr. and Mrs. Becker, who manage the aPn-American Hotel in Guatemala City, wrote that the hotel was not endangered since it is located at a higher point in the city. They said stranded tourists at Chichicastenango were flown out by plane after being stranded at the resort town for over a week.

Let's Browse In Campbell Library

Arrow, Mrs. Harriette L.
Hunter's Horn.—1949

This is an outstanding regional novel which combines beautiful pictures of the Kentucky mountains with a realistic portrait of the hill people who inhabit them. It tells the story of the Ballew family, and especially of Nunn, who was obsessed by the necessity to kill King Devil, the red fox; episodes of fox hunting, hound raising, a revival meeting, add to the interest which predominantly stresses the love of the land and the eternal struggle to exist from it. The fact that several critics have mentioned "Hunter's Horn" as a possible Pulitzer Prize winner attests to the charming quality of the book.

Beebe, William.
High Jungle.—1949.

Literature and natural history meet in this fascinating account of Dr. Beebe's latest expeditions to the Venezuelan Andes. Here in an isolated castle he and his colleague set up a laboratory for the study of wildlife in these untouched jungles. His report is packed with facts, figures and entertainment of the high quality we have come to expect from this talented naturalist-author.

Issler, Anne R.

Happier for His Presence: San Francisco and Robert Louis Stevenson.—1949.

The period covered in this biography is the five months Robert Louis Stevenson spent in San Francisco while waiting for Fanny Osbourne to win her divorce from Sam Osbourne. It gives a detailed picture of the San Francisco of that day and of the friends whom Stevenson knew there. Mrs. Issler did a great deal of research from various sources and bases her account on material taken from San Francisco newspapers of the period, from hitherto unpublished letters, and from other source material. Interesting new light is thrown on Stevenson's life at this time and on some of the factors which later influenced his writing.

Caldwell, Taylor.

Let Love Come Last.—1949.

Taylor Caldwell's magic storytelling will hold her readers' sympathy in spite of the unpleasantness and downright evil of some of the characters, in this story of the dangers of possessive love. William Prescott, a self-made lumber magnate, who had grown up in an orphanage, lavished all the wealth and undisciplined freedom on his children which he felt he himself had missed as a child. Needless to say, tragedy resulted in spite of the efforts of Ursula, his wife, who endeavored to save the children. The skillfully drawn background of the Eighties and Nineties provides authentic atmosphere for this engrossing family chronicle.

Kaye-Smith, Sheila.

The Happy Tree.—1949.

Against the background of rural Sussex, the author tells of the idyllic love of the lonely, young farmer, Kemp Silverden, for Alice Candelin, wife of the district's gentleman farmer. Thanks to a blizzard they have a brief interlude of Darby and Joan happiness together before the climax reveals the characters clearly, very nearly upsetting the pastoral tranquility of the scene. Although the plot is slight, Sheila Kaye-Smith's gift for story-telling and her delightful descriptions of the snow-bound countryside and the farmer folk who live there have produced a most readable tale.

Overstreet, Harry Allen.

The Mature Mind.—1949.

A popular psychologist who is familiar to us through his books, "About Ourselves" and "Influencing Human Behavior", in his newest book sets down in easy, understandable terms the psychological basis upon which we define maturity and the ways and means by which maturity is achieved. Based on sound scholarship, the book is not too theoretical for the lay reader, but is sane, significant and, moreover, excellent reading.

Webster, Elizabeth Charlotte.

Ceremony of Innocence.—1949.

Yeats poem "Mere anarchy is loosed upon the world—The ceremony of innocence is drowned" provides the title for this story of a young English novice in an Anglican convent in South Africa. Soon after Sybil's arrival it was discovered that she had psychic powers and her cure of a spastic spread her reputation as a healer. A dramatic climax is reached after her meeting with a brilliant and unbelieving young Irish writer. This work by an unknown author is written with artistry and distinction combined with unexpected humor. It is tragic to read that the writer, whose talent promised so much, died soon after the publication of her book.

One of the first advertisements placed by a person of prominence was an advertisement by Charles II of England in 1660, announcing a reward for the return of a lost dog.

Tsutomu T. Hikido Joins Brother On Honor List

Name of Tsutomu T. Hikido of Campbell was added to the list of honor students at Stanford University.

Boyd Haight, assistant director of information, notified the Campbell Press this week that "an error in compilation of names on the Dean's list of honor students caused the name of Tsutomu T. Hikido of Campbell to be omitted." Tsutomu's brother, Katsumi, was included in the original list and the announcement was published in last week's Press.

"I thought you would like to be informed of the oversight so that Tsutomu might be given due credit for this honor," Haight wrote in his letter. "Campbell has reason to feel proud of both brothers."

The Dean's list, on which the names of the Campbell brothers appear represents the top five percent of the 5030 undergraduate students who attended Stanford during 1948-49 autumn, winter and spring quarters.

Pupils Needed

Like to learn to typewrite, or just brush up on the skill? The adult evening school class at Campbell Union High School is still open for further enrollments. Classes are held Mondays and Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m., under direction of Mr. Kemp.

Sign-up for the class has been so small thus far that school officials fear it will not be feasible to continue the class as a permanent adjunct of the school curriculum, so if you plan to enter, better hurry up.

Memory Selection: Mark 11:9.

Jesus was Prophet, Priest, and King. In this lesson we consider the day he declared his authority as King. It was the day of the Triumphal Entry. Riding the colt of an ass, he entered the city of his fathers as King, attended by a multitude, joyous in demonstration. Identifying the occasion with a passage of the Psalms, they cried: "Hosanna!" And all the city was moved, saying: "Who is this?"

Soon after that first Palm Sunday, Jesus attacked the stronghold of special privilege and swept the temple clean of the concessionaires who dealt in exchange and others who sold sacrificial birds and beasts within the temple area. Exchange on the different monies of the countries from which pilgrims came and sales for sacrifice brought large sums to the chief priests and the concessionaires.

When Jesus saw this profanation of the holy house, he with a whip of cords drove men and beasts from the temple and overthrew the tables of the money changers. And he declared the house of prayer had been made a den of thieves. No opposition was made, but the chief priests and the scribes, when they heard of the cleansing of the temple, plotted to destroy Jesus.

The thought of the day is that Jesus is King and by right divine demands authority over us. He needs what we have in the ongoing of his kingdom. And he demands that the house of God be kept a holy place. Let us preserve our churches as sanctuaries for the worship of God.

A PEEK at the STARS

By LYN CONNELLY
NWSN Radio Screen Editor

THE eternal lines of autograph hounds camped outside artists' entrances at studios along Radio Row missed the opportunity of a lifetime recently when stars gathered at nearby Newhall, Cal., for a picnic.

The event was staged by the American Federation of Radio Artists for its Relief Fund — which netted a neat $3,000 from the affair — but not a single autograph fan showed up, to everyone's surprise.

Chet (Lum) Lauch and Norris (Abner) Goff ran the bingo tables and organized the square dance that night. This is becoming a career for the comics, who have been leaders in the radio colony in organizing classes and parties for the dance fad. Ken Carson forgot singing for the day and ran the rifle range, dressed as the gun-totin' Sheriff of Chicken Switch, Ark. Top work-out fell to Walter Tetley (who plays "LeRoy" on "The Great Gildersleeve" and "Julius" on the Phil Harris show). He was the target at the custard pie-throwing tent.

Elliot Lewis played his radio role of Frankie Remley to the hilt and complained that he couldn't understand why the picnic ran out of hot dogs. "I only had nine of 'em," he said. Announcer Frank Goss was major dome of the dart booth, where stars had the double pleasure of throwing at caricatures of famed directors and winning prizes for their marksmanship. A baseball game was played with Willard Waterman's team defeating Frank Nelson's nine, 11 to 7.

Auctioneer Frank Nelson (Herb Woodley of "Blondie") sold moose heads, golf clubs, old books and cast-offs. But his top role was auctioning off supporting roles on such radio programs as "Sam Spade," "Straight Arrow," "Philip Marlowe" and the "Philip Morris Playhouse." Ambitious newcomers bought roles for as much as the shows would pay — just to have the opportunity to show their abilities to directors who never would hear them otherwise. All in all, a wonderful time was had by all.

It has been estimated nature requires from 300 to 1000 years to build an inch of top soil.

Drivers Escape Injury In Crash

Nobody was injured Wednesday afternoon in a two-car crash on W. Campbell Avenue at Milton Avenue. Damage to the two cars, however, was expected to run to about $400 each.

Mrs. Earl Wetterstrom, 413 Flora Avenue, San Jose, told California Highway Patrolmen she was driving east on Campbell Avenue when her car collided with that of Malcolm Tolin, 39 Birch Lane, San Jose, who was driving south on Milton.

Mrs. Wetterstrom said she attempted to avoid the crash by swerving.

Light HOUSEKEEPING

Seventy years ago, Oct. 21, 1879, Thomas A. Edison gave to the world the first incandescent lamp. Successive improvements of the great inventor's lamp have brought blessings of bountiful light at low cost.

As the darker days approach, a little Light Housekeeping will save you money and brighten your home. Here's how:

1. Light output from lamps can be increased as much as 30 per cent by regular cleaning of lamp shades and bowls.
2. When lamps get old and black their light output can drop as much as 20 per cent.
3. Use the right size bulb for every seeing need.

Many Long Distance operators ring telephones in a number of cities across country...much as you dial a call.

SHE "PUSH-BUTTONS" CALLS COAST-TO-COAST

New system can put through calls in 30 seconds

1. One of our newest developments to speed your Long Distance calls is this push-button equipment. So complex it's almost a mechanical brain, it's a key to a system which permits an operator to call straight to telephones in other cities...practically as fast as dialing across town. Push-button or dial equipment now is used for three out of four calls between cities.

3. Perhaps your next Long Distance call may be handled this way. For the new plan is part of our program to improve all service to make it more valuable to you...and it's a bargain today. A daytime station call to any point on the East Coast is only $2.50 plus tax...the lowest rate ever.

2. Quicker call completions are one big advantage of the push-button system. If you know the number—instead of just the name and address—we can ring the telephone you are calling in an average of about thirty seconds after you lift the receiver. That's three times as fast as we can serve you if you don't know the number. So it's a good idea to keep a list of those you call often.

We bring this message to all the churches of our city. It is a message of deep appreciation for your services and for your services and for your faithful consecration to the life of Him who died on the cross. The church is the spiritual gathering place for those who would worship in reverent communion and prayer. It is the cathedral of contemplation, whether it be an impressive edifice or a humble meeting house. Here we have churches of many denominations...and God lovingly invites you to attend the one of your choice. Let's all go to church every Sunday. Let's pray for the redemption of the world.

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Many a rosy picture has been painted in recent years about the constantly increasing income level enjoyed by Americans.

Greater income is one thing but what is left of that income either in purchasing power or even face dollar value is quite another. For the insatiable tax appetite of government has grown with such frightening rapidity in the last decades that a drastic treatment surely is necessary to get at the administrative tapeworm which demands feeding by more and more public dollars. Otherwise, the time may soon come when those who work for the money upon which government feeds will find that it demands almost all of what they earn.

This is not an attempt to "cry wolf." To the contrary, disquieting figures compiled by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and others show that the tax burden is mushrooming constantly.

"In the last 18 years," Earle V. Grover, president of the L. A. Chamber, points out, "taxes imposed by local governments have increased from $4,500,000,000 to about seven billion dollars—about 55 per cent."

"During the same period, state taxes increased from $1,900,000,000 to 8 billion dollars—a four-fold (400 per cent) increase."

"Meanwhile the federal burden increased from $1,800,000,000 to 45 billion dollars—an increase of more than 24 times!" That is an increase of 2400 per cent.

"It is imperative that individual citizens, as well as civic organizations concerned with tax matters, direct more of their attempts to reduce local and state taxes, and it is of paramount importance that we do not overlook efforts to cut down the lion's share imposed by the federal government," Grover concluded.

Almost everyone is familiar with the obvious methods used by government to separate the citizen from his dollars—income, property, sales, corporation, and franchise taxes—but hidden levies are another matter. Larry F. Kreger, president of the Kreger Manufacturing Company, offers some interesting facts in this regard.

For instance, on women's hosiery selling for $1.50, the government collects 50 cents.

People complain about the high cost of housing, yet for a $10,000 home, labor runs about $3000, material $4000, and taxes $3000!

A quart of milk would cost 13 cents—except for an additional eight cents in taxes. A medium-priced automobile would sell for $1400—except for the $700 which the government wants. A $150 refrigerator is taxed $75. Of the $3 paid for baby shoes, one dollar is tax. So it goes.

In a loaf of bread, the tax foundation states, there are hidden 151 state and federal taxes!

The Tax Foundation also reports that there are 116 state and federal taxes hidden in a man's summer suit—and as is the case with the loaf of bread, this does not even include the local taxes which are hidden away!

Is it any wonder that America's tax bill hit an all-time record in $PEND! $PEND! $PEND!

1948—$54,500,000,000 for the fiscal year.

The Census Bureau reports that this averaged $472 per person. That's a record. Here is the way the government's "take" breaks down:

Individual income taxes amounted to $19,800,000,000—more than one-third of the total collected.

Sales and gross receipts taxes and customs accounted for $12,100,000,000 in 1948, a 113 percent increase over 1942.

Corporation income taxes collected were $10,300,000,000.

While the Federal Government took far and away the largest slice of tax revenues, the greatest single source of local government income was property taxes—$5,900,000,000 last year, an increase of 35 per cent over 1942.

Commenting on the government's ever-increasing spending tendency, Herbert Nelson writes in Headlines, official publication of the National Association of Real Estate Boards: "Without any real financial control, politicians are on a joy-ride which can only end in a crack-up. So as to spend faster, they even consider dumping the dollar in order to chase the bubble currencies of other countries."

Our differences of political faith are not so much of the 'right' or 'left' as they are about this matter of spending by the federal government."

As Nelson concludes, "Our people should be allowed by our federal rulers to keep more of their earnings to invest in their own ways of production, homes, and farms to build the true wealth of our country." A high income level is meaningless unless the people are free to spend that income as they see fit!

William Allen White purchased the Emporia Gazette for $5000.
